He has, however, cited against the appealed claim a plurality of references in which he severally points out by way of justifying his action, certain elements or features which more or less resemble portions of the applicant s design, also specified. An action of this character is justifiable only in cases where a design has been produced by aggregating independent features old or new, and in such a case a rejection placed clearly upon the ground of aggregation will suffice. We are not prepared to rule that the applicant s design is not of an unitary character. In consequence of this position, we cannot affirm the examiner s rejection upon a plurality of references alleged to show features resembling portions of the applicant s construction. In determining whether a design is of an unitary or an aggregated character, the test to be applied must be the impression received through the eye of the observer upon the mind. If the impression thus received be in fact of i--Design patents to Nelson, No. 40,717; De Vilbiss, 40,790; Madden, 41,441; Pope, 42,295; Leichter, 43,052; Estes, 43,739. an unitary character, the inquiry in that direction ends, and such an impression cannot be disposed of by arbitrarily separating an applicant s construction into different portions and applying aptly worded characterizations thereto. The right of an inventor of a design to have it considered as a...
