Not illustrated. 1887 Excerpt: . . . their own balls, but an equal care for the whole appears to affect the community. They form the pellets while the material remains moist, and leave them in the sun before they attempt to roll them In moving them from place to place, both they and their balls may frequently be seen tumbling about over the little eminences in their way. They are not, however, easily discouraged, and, by repeating their attempts, usually overcome the difficulties. 13. Another beetle is called an animated stick, or walking-stick. He is long and thin like The WaiUng-stieh. a stick or twig, and his six legs are like smaller twigs; and because he so closely resembles the smaller limbs of a tree, it is difficult to find him. An attempt to catch one of these walking-sticks with a pair of scissors only succeeded in cutting the creature in two, when the head-end walked one way,...
