Part I. Introduction. Fair morning sat upon the mountain-top And o'er the silent city softly stole The sheen and shimmer of her golden robes. Night skulking crept into the mountain-chasm. The silent ships slept in the silent bay; One broad blue bent of ether domed the heavens, One broad blue distance lay the shadowy land, One broad blue vast of silence slept the sea. Now from the dewy groves the joyful birds In carol-concert sang their matin songs Softly and sweetly - full of prayer and praise. Then silver-chiming, solemn-voiced bells Rung out their music on the morning air, About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Reviews

Basically no phrases to clarify. It really is written in straightforward phrases rather than hard to understand. You will not sense monotony at any moment of your own time (that's what catalogues are for concerning if you ask me).
